SHEEHAN GETS 58 PRISONERS.

FIVE WAGONLOADS TAKEN AFTER A FIGHT IN A POOLROOM.

It Was Sonny Smith's Place-He'd Just Moved Over From the Bowery Where Chapman Was Too Strenuous-Sheehan Funched, So He Arrests Everybedy.

Police Captain Sheehan of the Tenderloin station, accompanied by Detectives Underhill, Black and Maher, went poolroom hunting yesterday afternoon. The captain had information that a presumptuous young man, wearied of the activity of Chapman, had ventured into his precinct from the Bowery. He found the poolroom at 7 West Fourteenth street, the remote southeast corner of his precinct, and he and his men made the biggest bag of the season, fifty-eight prisoners, but they only made it after the toughest kind

Fred Gohde of 130 Greenwich street was primarily responsible for the raid. He called at the Tenderloin station on Monday and told Capt. Sheeban that he had been swindled in the poolroom at 7 West Fourteenth street, kept by the notorious "Sonny"

"Come around here to-morrow morning." said the captain, "and we'll go down to Jefferson Market, get a warrant and raid the place.

When Gohde reached the station house yesterday morning Capt. Sheehan was at Police Headquarters.

"Say, Sarge," said Gohde to the sergean on duty, "that bunch down on Fourteenth street squared me. I got all my money back and there's no complaint coming. Tell the captain to call the raid off."

When Capt. Sheehan heard the message he left word for Underhill, Black and Maher to meet him at Fourteenth street and Sixth avenue at 4 o'clock. Then the four went to a point opposite the alleged poolroom Capt. Sheehan ordered Underhill and Black to go in and get to the poolroom. The two were recognized the moment they en-

A lookout struck Underhill in the lace and ran upstairs. The two detectives followed as fast as they could run to the fourth floor, where the lookout disappeared behind a door. Underhill got rid of two of the Underhill got rid of two of the men and leaving Black to fight the rest rushed at the door. One or two vigorous kicks smashed it in. Inside Underhill found some sixty of seventy men running around in great excitement. Some were engaged in great excitement. Some were trying tearing up racing sheets, others were trying the books, while still others to conceal the books, while still others were clamoring before the cashier's window.

In a side room, Underhill found a telephone and made for it at once, meaning to call up Headquarters.

Some one yelled out: "Stop him," and a dozen men grabbed him. Finally some one called out:

"Throw the blanketty, blank copper out of the window."

Underhill, who is confident that the men meant to throw him out, yelled for help, and Black came rushing in with his revolver in his hand.

"Get into the corner," he yalled. "I'll shoot the first man who comes out."

The crowd left Underhill and backed into the corner. Underhill then called up Police Headquarters and asked for help. Headquarters in turn notified the Tenderloin and the West Twentieth street stations. In the meantime Capt. Sheehan In the meantime Capt. Sheehar tain was knocked down and a dozen m punched and kicked him. He was getting very much the worst of it when Maher drew his pistol, and drove the men back into the room. WANTS TO KEEP ADAM BURIED. Dr. Fagnani Will Also Punch Holes in Things to Let in Presbyterian Light.

Dr. Charles P. Fagnani of the Union Theological Seminary was the principal speaker at the fifth annual reunion of the Presbyterian Union of Brooklyn at the Pouch Mansion last evening. He commented on the flourishing condition of the Presbyterian churches in Brooklyn and said the cause was probably that the pastors clamor to have their salaries reduced.

"I believe in the Presbyterian Church, he continued. "It is the broadest of all denominations. At times it has been considered prejudiced, but to-day it is the most liberal of all.

"I am going back to the city across the river to punch holes in things for the purpose of letting in the light. I am going to see if I can't put a slab on Adam's grave and keep him down; yes, and keep him from walking in his sleep. If it is necessary to resuscitate somebody, why not let be his better half, Eve? "God is going to lead the Presbyterian Church into new things. Calvin was all right for his time and any things that are good will be kept alive. Those things which have passed usefulness will be shaken off the tree of Christianity. "The Episcopal church will not be the

Church. The Presbyterian Church is going to be the Church in New York. All that is needed to bring this about is a few firstclass funerals." [Laughter.] The Rev. Dr. Overton presided at the reunion and addresses were delivered by the Rev. Dr. L. R. Foote, a former mission ary to Turkey, and the Rev. Dr. Cadman. who told of Presbyterianism in the British

COURT REFUSES TO RELEASE AMERICAN NAVAL OFFICERS.

Secretary Long Cables for a Report of the Case, and a Request That the Five Prisoners Be Turned Over to Us for Punishment Will Probably Be Made.

Special Cable Despatch to THE SUN. VENICE April 29.—The corresponden f THE SUN procured details to-day of the trouble between the authorities and certain officers of the United States cruiser Chicago, which has resulted in the conviction of Capt R. F. Wynne, of the marines; Assistant urgeon Ledbetter, Lieut. Doddridge, Cadet Kress and Marine Wilfred Langley on the charge of disorderly conduct.

Two of the Americans were requested to leave the Café Angelo on Saturday night ecause of alleged misconduct. They were joined subsequently by three compatriots at the Café Aurora in the Piazza di San Marco. Here they are said to have created a disturbance among the guests by indulging in boxing bouts among themselves during which chairs and tables were overturned.

When the police intervened the Americans resisted arrest, and they proved to be such strong and splendid fighters that the police were compelled to request the assistance of citizen bystanders. The fight ng then became general.

One of the citizens was severely wounded before the Americans were subdued. When arrested they gave fictitious names and ad-

LONDON, April 30.—A despatch to the Morning Leader from Rome says that some comment is made on the severity of the sentences imposed on the Chicago's officers, though there was applause in the court room when they were pronounced. The prisoners will appeal.

WASHINGTON, April 29 .- Officials of the Administration came to the conclusion to-day that the arrest, conviction and imprisonment of four officers from the United States cruiser Chicago, by the authorities at Venice for participating in a street disturbance there, was much more serious than was at first supposed and it is now probable that an effort will be made to secure the release of the Ameri-

The Secretary of the Navy this morning telegraphed to Capt. Dayton, the Chicago's commander, to cable a report of the troubles in which the American officers have become involved. Mr. Long said to-night that he had not received an answer from Capt. Dayton.

capt. Dayton.

From what was said at the State Department this afternoon in regard to the case it is inferred that an inquiry has been sent also to the American Embassy at Rome and while the officials would not it is believed that Ambassador Mover has been or will be directed to intercede with the Italian Government to secure the release of the Chicago's officers.

While among some of the higher officials be allowed to take its course without inter-ference from this Government, a large majority of the naval officers on duty here express indignation over the sentences imposed, and surprise was expressed that the American Government had not made a protest.

In numerous other cases of this kind the invariable custom of the local authorities at foreign ports has been to turn the persons arrested over to the commanders of their ships with the understanding that they would be punished under naval law for the offences committed on shore

Herrmann's wife is missing. She was Miss Eugenia Kessler, of New York, where they were married on March 1. Mrs. Herrmann, who greatly disliked the West, told friends last week that she was going East to purchase supplies for the home they were about to occupy.

Herrmann was 32 years old, and an Austrian by birth. He came here four years ago to take charge of a weekly German paper, the Freie Presse. He had been in ill-health, and his physician recom-mended sulphonal to induce sleep.

There has been a bone ance the infre-duction of sulphonal into medical practice, fifteen years ago, that the remedy was a simple and safe one, and that a sufferer from insomnia might take it freely with confidence that he was in no danger from any size dose. The belief has not been well-founded. People have compared sul-phonal with morphine. Morphine is an photal with morphise. Says She Has Compromising Letters -Afrikander Bond Offered $50,000 for Them Says Checks Were Genuide -Rhodes's Secretary Defends Him.

Special Cable Despatch to THE SUN. CAPE TOWN, April 29.- The hearing of the charge against Princess Radziwill was resumed to-day. The accused gave evidence on oath and declared that the bills to which it is charged she forged Mr. Rhodes's signature were genuine, and that no forgery was committed. They were handed to her by Mrs. Scholtz.

The secretary of Cecil Rhodes testified that he had never seen Mr. Rhodes under the influence of liquor during the past eight A quantity of correspondence was read including a letter from the Princess to

Dr. Jameson in which the writer said After the abominable lies Rhodes told the court neither he nor you will wonder when I tell you I mean to take strong meas ures to prove that he perjured himself. Well, a woman can bite. The Princess took the stand and testified that she had never told Mrs. Scholtz that she possessed compromising letters from Lord Milner. She had compromising letters from Mr. Rhodes, and the Afrikander Bond had offered £10,000 for them.

Toward the close of the examination the witness dramatically exclaimed: swear before God that I am innocent of hese charges.

Mrs. Scholtz denied giving the prisoner blank bills signed by Mr. Rhodes. The taking of evidence was concluded to-day.

ARCHBISHOP STILL VERY WEAK Dr. Janeway Called In Again-Vicar-Gen eral Mooney Returns.

Yesterday morning's bulletin by Arch bishop Corrigan's physicians said: Archbishop Corrigan's condition continues to be satisfactory in all respects, except weakness, which persists. He has not yet fully rallied.

Despite the patient's extreme weakness and his slow recovery since the disappear ances of the last traces of pneumonia, his household feels no apprehension. His sec retary, Father Curley, said last night: "Immediate recuperation is not possible for a man of the Archbishop's frail physique.

We can only be thankful that the pneumonia has passed and await the return of the Archbishop's health with patience." The calling in of Dr. Janeway at the midday consultation yesterday was entirely without reference to any change in the patient's condition. "It was simply for the patient's condition. It was simply for the sake of the reassurance Dr. Janeway's presence would give," Father Curley said. "Merely a matter of precaution. Dr. Janeway will probably be called in consultation every three days until the Archbishop is out of all danger." After the consultation the following bulletin was prepared:

Willard Reed Green, a p. moter who conducted the negotiations with Prof. L. Pupin, and who says he is one of the principal stockholders in the Marconi company, said that at the meeting of the company's directors yesterday a contract was let for the last of the equipment of the stations at Cape Cod and Cape Breton and that the company would be prepared to handle commercial business in ninety days' time. Mr. Green said arrangements had been made with the two telegraph companies for the inland transmission of any messages handled by the wireless line.

TO BE CHIEF MARCONI STATION. Plant at Sagaponeck, L. I., Will Also Train Operators for Wireless System.

BRIDGEHAMPTON, L. I., April 29.-Workmen began to-day to build at Sagaponeck, two miles east of this place, a wireless telegraph station for the Marconi system. A mast 185 feet long is on the ground together with a one horse-power gasolene engine and a dynamo. It is expected to have the station ready for operation in a week. It will be the principal station on the coast and the first one to speak incoming steamships. It will be connected with New York by Western Union wires and will be in charge of the operator of the Nantucket lightship.

The station will also be used to educate operators in the new system. It is on land owned by Frederick W. Seward, a summer resident, and the instruments to equip it.

Mrs. Warren Defles Sheriff's Jury Whiteh Wants to Ex amine Into Her San NEW ROCHELLE, April 29 .- A Sheriff's jury and a commission are having a hard time trying to determine whether Elizaeth Hunter Ludlow Warren, a rich New Rochelle woman, is insane, as alleged by her brother, Banyer Ludlow. The diffiherself alone in her home at 45 Locust avenue and refuses to appear before the jury or see any one. The petition for the mission had to be served on her by Anni

Donnelly through a ruse. Mrs. Warren, who owns property in New York worth $100,000, is the wife of Louis Warren, an inmate of the Poughkeepsie State Insane Asylum. The Sheriff's Jury and the commission met for the second time at New Rochelle to-day and heard testitime at New Rochelle to-day and heard testimony bearing on the woman's alleged incompetency. It is probable a warrant for contempt of court will be issued and she may be brought before the inquiring court by force to-morrow afternoon. Dr. M. R. Vedder of Manhattan testified yesterday that Mrs. Warren imagines that her brothers and sisters are trying to get her property. Banyer Ludlow, brother of Mrs. Warren, swore that his sister imagined he had defrauded her.

Mrs. Warren was a Mise Ludlow and related to the old Hunter family of Westchester county. Warren first mot her two years ago when he was a patrolman and had a beat in Fourth avenue, Manhattan. He daily assisted her across the street and she fell in love with him.

VANDERBILT WINDOW. Memorial Placed in Newport to the Memory of the Late Cornelius.

Newpost, R. I., April 29.—Mrs. Cornelius Vanderbilt has placed a window in Trinky Church, Newport, as a memorial to her husband. It is on the north side next to the window in memory of Mrs. Mary Rhine pew which Mr Vanderbilt occupied for many years. The window represents a Christian knight seated and holding in his right hand a sword, the point of which rests on the ground, and in his left a sheld, upon which is a cross, resting on the left upon which is a gross, resting on the

The inscription beneath the figure reads:
"To the glory of God and in loving memory of Cornelius Vandertall, horn, 1848; died, 1840. Wherefore take unto you the whole armour of God."
There is nothing in the window to indicate that it is the gift of Mrs. Vanderbilt.
